The cotton market yesterday remained un-der the depressing influences that have fastened on trade as the news still shows danger of war in Europe to be imminent. The New Orleans market was quiet at the rate of the previous day's decline; New York was weak at the figures to which cotton fell there the lay before, and futures were five points down for the nearer months; Liverpool was flat and pregular, while arrivals were lower and closed dull. In our market there was a good inquiry, but, as on the previous day, a sharp drop-off in the demand from exporters. The heavy state of the markets, full receipts here, and the general gloomy condition of things proved to be too much for our quotations, which, on a revision, were marked 16c down Il through, so that even "ten cents for midlling 'is above us, for we can quote only 9 %c. dorse the extreme crop theories, and especially have the weekly figures from the inferior towns given token of more cotton to come. Consumptive demand, also, is void of improving signs, and the export movement from the south has of late failen to smaller proportions. A somewhat new feature on the market to-day, and unquestionably a saving clause which has served not only to check the break, but give base for some recheck the break, but give base for some recovery, was a pretty liberal demand from 'shorts,' not only in the room, but from Wall street.
